

Product Update

This is a brief update to inform you that there have been changes made to the CV3116-XX Injector Label. Please see chart below for complete part number.

This change only affects the injector label color, which is transitioning from black lettering on a white background to white lettering on a black background. Besides this color change, no other updates have been made to this part. This change will in no way impact performance or function.

The last two characters in the part number will be replaced by a two digit identifier which indicates the letter displayed on the label. Use the table below to determine which part number is associated with each label.
